NUTRITION LESSON 4

HABITS.

Small things, done every day, that get you results for good.

LONG-TERM CONSISTENCY BEATS SHORT-TERM INTENSITY.

Diets that make you suffer do work, for a while. But nobody wants to suffer forever. When it stops, the weight comes back.

WHY THIS MATTERS

The best plan is the one you can stick to. That's why our three rules are flexible and fit your life. You don't have to be perfect. You just get a bit better over time.

ON AUTO-PILOT.

A habit is something you do without thinking about it.

You walk into the bathroom in the morning, see your toothbrush and brush your teeth. You don't decide to. You just do it.

WHY IT HELPS

When good eating is a habit, it stops being a fight every day. That's what gets results that last.

FIVE RULES FOR A NEW HABIT.

A new habit is much more likely to stick if it ticks all five:

1 OBVIOUS
You can see how it helps your goal.

2 FREQUENT
You do it every day.

3 TRIGGERED
Something reminds you to do it.

4 ACHIEVABLE
So easy you're sure you'll do it.

5 IN YOUR CONTROL
Nothing else can stop you.

OVER THE NEXT PAGES

We go through each rule with an example.

1 IT MUST BE OBVIOUS.

You should be able to see straight away how the habit helps your goal. The clearer the link, the more likely you are to stick with it.

✗ "Eat cleaner"	✅ "Log my breakfast as soon as I've eaten it"

2 IT MUST BE FREQUENT.

To go on autopilot, you need to do it most days. Ideally every day.

✗ "Meal prep once a month"	✅ "Pack tomorrow's lunch every evening"

3 IT MUST BE TRIGGERED.

Every habit starts with a trigger: something you see or do that reminds you. Your toothbrush is the trigger for brushing your teeth.

THE EASY WAY: HABIT STACKING

Tie your new habit to something you already do every day.

Stick a post-it saying “stretch” on the kettle until it sticks.

USE THIS SENTENCE

After I [something I already do], I will [new habit].
“After I put the kettle on in the morning, I will stretch for 2 minutes.”

4 IT MUST BE ACHIEVABLE.

You should be 90 to 100% sure you can do it every day. Make it so easy it feels impossible to fail. Doing a small thing every day beats trying to be perfect.

✗ “10,000 steps a day from tomorrow”	✅ “A 10-minute walk after tea”

5 IT MUST BE IN YOUR CONTROL.

Pick something only you decide. You can't make yourself sleep 8 hours, because kids, noise and alarms get in the way. You can control your bedtime routine.

✗ “Sleep 8 hours a night”	✅ “No phone for 30 minutes before bed”

WRITE IT DOWN.

Every time you start a new habit, write it as one sentence. Put it in your phone notes or on a post-it where you'll see it.

I am 90 to 100% sure that I will

OUTCOME
WHY YOU'RE DOING IT

FOR EXAMPLE

"I am 90 to 100% sure that I will stretch for 2 minutes when I put the kettle on in order to stay mobile and injury free."

REMEMBER THIS.

1 STEADY BEATS EXTREME

Pick what you can keep doing.

2 MAKE IT SMALL AND DAILY

Easy enough that you can't fail.

3 STACK IT ON A HABIT

Use something you already do.

Want help picking a habit? Ask a coach in the gym, or bring it to your strategy session. We'd love to help.
