NUTRITION LESSON 7

MEAL PLANNING.

Six simple steps to a week that hits your targets.

PLAN AHEAD.

Changing how you eat is all about good planning.

It doesn't mean a huge meal prep session every Sunday. It just means thinking about your week before it happens:

- What am I doing this week?
- What will I eat each day to hit my targets?
- What lunch will I grab before that meeting on Thursday?

WHY IT HELPS

Last-minute decisions are where things go wrong. When you've got a plan, you're not leaving it to chance when you're hungry and busy.

SIX STEPS TO A PLAN.

Go through these once for your week. Each one is explained over the next pages.

1 HOW MANY MEALS?
Meals and snacks each day.

2 COOK OR GRAB?
What you make, and what you buy ready.

3 PROTEIN PER MEAL
Split your daily target.

4 PICK A PROTEIN
One for every meal.

5 PICK A CARB
One for every meal.

6 PICK A FAT
One for every meal.

1 HOW MANY MEALS?

Decide how many meals and snacks you'll have each day. It's up to you. Most people do well with 3 to 5. For example:

Breakfast

Lunch

Snack

Tea

2 COOK OR GRAB?

Look at your week. Which meals will you make, and which can you buy ready to go?

COOK

- Batch cook lunches for the week
- Overnight oats for easy breakfasts

GRAB

- Protein bars and shakes for snacks
- Healthy ready meals

WHY THIS HELPS

You'll know what to cook and what to buy before you shop. Most people do a bit of both.

3 PROTEIN PER MEAL.

Protein is the one most people struggle to hit. Make it easy: take your daily protein target and split it across your meals.

DAILY PROTEIN TARGET	100g

÷ 4 meals

25g	25g	25g	25g
BREAKFAST	LUNCH	SNACK	TEA

Your own protein target is on the Nutrition tab in Trainerize.

WHAT 25G OF PROTEIN LOOKS LIKE

A chicken breast

A small tin of tuna

250g of 0% Greek yogurt

A protein shake made with milk

WHY SPLIT IT?

It's much easier to hit 25g four times than to try to catch up on 100g at tea time.

STEPS 4 TO 6: PICK ONE OF EACH.

Build each meal with a protein, a carb and a fat. Here are good choices:

4 PROTEIN

Chicken or turkey, fish, tinned tuna, eggs, Greek yogurt, protein powder (whey, or vegan rice, pea or hemp), lentils, beans, tofu

5 CARBS

Potato, sweet potato, rice, oats, quinoa, fruit, vegetables, rice cakes, tortillas

6 FATS

Avocado, butter, cheese, nuts, nut butter, olives, olive oil, seeds, salmon

PROTEIN FIRST

Pick your protein first. It's the hardest to hit, so build the rest of the meal around it.

YOU'VE GOT A PLAN.

After the six steps you know:

- ✓ How many meals you'll eat each day
- ✓ What you need to buy to cook
- ✓ Which snacks to get in
- ✓ Your shopping list for the week

YOU STILL NEED TO TRACK

Plans change. Keep logging your food as you go, and tweak the rest of the day so you still hit your targets.

REMEMBER THIS.

1 PLAN YOUR WEEK AHEAD

Don't leave it to the last minute.

2 SPLIT YOUR PROTEIN

A target for every meal.

3 KEEP TRACKING

Even with a plan.
